Learn from the experts...preserve all the important information from the conference!

The 2004 ASUG Annual Conference & Vendor is here—and you have the unique opportunity to learn from the more than 450 educational sessions that are being offered. Listen once again to informative presentations, or hear for the first time a compelling session that you may have missed. With so much vital information—communicated in each of the Business Processes, Industries or SAP Theaters—you won't want to miss a single minute. Each CD-ROM contains the audio with available PowerPoint presentations and serves as a great refresher for those who did attend or a valuable training tool and informational source for those who could not attend.
