Implementation of the HIPAA Security Standards must be completed prior to the April 21, 2005 compliance deadline. The Security Standards mandate the development of a formal disaster recovery/business continuity plan, policies and procedures related to maintaining the security of electronic protected health information (E PHI), as well as technical mechanisms to protect computer networks, workstations and the physical site housing E PHI. In addition, employees must be trained in concepts related to data security, policies and new terminology.

This seminar will review various HIPAA Security requirements and provide a focused question and answer period allowing participants to share information, discuss challenges and obtain guidance from the expert faculty.

Complete seminar sets come in attractive storage albums.

Audio CDs are available for at seminar purchase; Audio tapes will be shipped shortly following the seminar.
